David Chong
RCC-ACS

Phone Number:

604-838-9123

Business City:

Richmond

Website:

www.davidchongcounselling.ca

David Chong provides Clinical Supervision and Clinical Consultation for clinicians that integrates theory, research literature, and practice in case conceptualization, planning and counselling interventions. David provides supervision and training for those entering the mental health field, in order to ensure that clinical practices are well delivered. He evaluates and examines the clinicians for their level of proficiency and competency in the clinical setting. He engages with clinicians and provides ongoing support, formative feedback, summative evaluations, and consultation with respect to the clinician's strengths, challenges and advancement. He examines the clinicians with difference-centered theories, practice models and approaches to practice. He also analyzes and critiques their learning objectives and helps them chart appropriate pathways to make progress in their practice.

David nurtures a therapist's personal and professional growth by using a critical analysis approach in order to impart knowledge and practice strategies to the next generation of practitioners.

Education:

University of Liverpool (UK) - Doctor of Education Candidate

Lancaster University (UK) - Master of Arts in Health Research (Mental Health)

University of British Columbia - Master of Social Work

University of Victoria - Bachelor of Social Work (Child Welfare Specialization)

Qualifications:

BC Association of Clinical Counsellors - RCC-ACS

BC College of Social Workers - RSW

Canadian Association for Marriage and Family (BC Branch) - Affiliate Member

Canadian Fertility and Andrology Society - Member

Canadian Society of Clinical Hypnosis - Member

American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy - Full Professional Member

Area of Supervision:

- Clinical Supervision
- Clinical Consultation
- Group Supervision
- Peer Supervision
- Peer Consultation

Type of Services

- Telephone
- Online/Remote
- In-Person