I welcome you to allow us to walk together as we explore your practice values, theories, and reflections. I look forward to a professional, ethical and collaborative relationship with Therapists who come to me for clinical supervision. I can offer a place for you to have ongoing development of your knowledge, skills and abilities to provide the best service to your clients.

I have a passion for offering quality supervision to therapists at all stages of their career, to provide the best possible experiences for your clients, to deepen your own self-awareness, self-compassion and your ability to reflect on your own practice.

It is sometimes in the act of reflecting and speaking aloud our experiences in a safe space that we are able to stretch and grow in ways never thought possible. Clinical Supervision can help us to get unstuck and allows more compassion resilience in our practice.
