Kathryn co-directs East Van Behavior Analysis LTD, which provides contemporary behavioral intervention and counselling in keeping with our clients' values and goals. She is a queer mom of two and an RCC since 2009. Her private practice is committed to the difficult and necessary work of critical self-reflection to unlearn and reduce the harms of colonialism and white supremacy. EVBA welcomes individuals of all backgrounds and identities, including BIPOC, neurodiverse, and 2SLGBTQIA+ colleagues and clients.

Kathryn is available for supervision in counselling approaches under the umbrella of the contextual behavioral sciences, particularly Acceptance and Commitment Therapy. She also provides consultation on issues related to neurodiversity, gender diversity, parenting, queer relationships, school and workplace advocacy, and social justice.
