I have been practicing Clinical Counselling for over 22 years. Some of my experience and training include working with groups for divorced and separated individuals.

I have also been a member of an EAP group for more than 10 years. In this EAP group would conduct monthly meetings for the purpose of collaboration and peer supervision. At other times there would be individual reciprocal supervision and feedback on specific cases. More recently, in private practice with 4 other colleagues, there existed frequent back and forth supervision and consultation.

I am grateful for the current relationship with Dr. Dan Stone that has morphed from supervision in the early days to what is now an equitable balance of respect and mutual learning.
