Supervision is an integral part of my practice. I have been supervising Masters of Counselling students, peers, and groups since 2016. I have a passion for working with internship students and supporting them in their growth as new practitioners. I am trained in many different modalities and believe in utilizing interventions from many different approaches. I am orientated to non-pathologizing, client-centred approaches and I have a specialization in working with issues of violence. I am the owner and clinical supervisor at Currents Counselling. I am located in Salmon Arm, BC, and also offer supervision services in Kamloops, Vernon, as well as virtual. Please feel free to contact me directly for more information.
